20 YEARS OF “FROM TEACHERS FOR TEACHERS”

Berlin, 14.04.2021: Science on Stage celebrates its birthday. The non-profit educational initiative looks back on a 20-year success story.

In the beginning, it was just an idea: a science festival for teachers. 20 years later, so much more has come out of it: an association that is active in more than 30 countries, free teaching materials, regular teacher trainings and, of course, the festivals for STEM teachers.

Science on Stage has achieved a lot in the last 20 years, always looking to bring together STEM teachers with excellent teaching ideas and so improving STEM education for students in Europe.

We wish to celebrate the achievements of the past and present and look to the future. During the week of 12 - 16 April 2021, we will be celebrating our birthday. During this time, you will find a wide range of background information, pictures, and videos on our social media channels and on our homepage. We would be delighted, if you would share these posts through your channels.

This link will give you multimedia insight into the 20 years of our engagement by, for and with STEM teachers. Attached to this email you will also find a fact sheet about our work.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all our supporters and partners who make our activities possible. Especially think ING., the initiative of the GESAMTMETALL employers' association, who have supported Science on Stage from the very beginning.

Of course, we also wish to thank all the teachers who are so passionately involved with us and who contribute so generously their time and ideas!

We are already looking forward to the next 20 years!
